- Delaware Valley University Head Coach Duke Greco

A Philadelphia native, Rasheed Bailey signed with his hometown Philadelphia Eagles as a rookie free agent following the 2015 NFL Draft. Bailey appeared in 43 career games for the Delaware Valley Aggies and set a new school record with 3,138 career receiving yards. His 1,707 yards and 19 touchdowns as a senior in 2014 led all of Division III.

BIRDSEED

- Grew up a passionate Eagles fan and admired former Eagles RB Brian Westbrook during his youth. "I used to want to skip out on church to watch the Eagles play," joked Bailey. "I watched all of their games and loved watching Westbrook. I remember thinking to myself, 'Man, this guy can really run around.'"
- Shortly after he signed with the Eagles, DelVal's dining hall had a "Rasheed Bailey Day," and served some of the wideout's favorite foods: seafood and chicken gumbo, fried cod, roasted potatoes, steamed broccoli and peach cobbler
- Cites the two most memorable moments of his sports career as receiving his first letters from colleges while at Roxborough High School and getting a call from Eagles offensive coordinator Pat Shurmur following the 2015 NFL Draft. Bailey remembers his draft experience: "My family and friends were all gathered. There was a lot going on, but when it was time to make a decision on which team to go to, I wanted to just go do it. My biggest goal was to get a chance and to have this feeling that I have now. Now it's up to me to make the most of this situation."

HARD AT WORK

Prior to his senior year of college, Bailey interned with a marketing consulting firm that worked with players from both the NFL and NBA. Bailey would assist the company in setting up endorsement calls and signing sessions for several athletes, including the Eagles own Darren Sproles.

"It was a really great experience to work in that kind of environment," said Bailey. "I had the chance to meet and talk with Sproles and his wife at an autograph session over the summer. He was a great guy to talk to and learn from and we even had the chance to go get our haircut together."
